

A Song for Souls: Poems of Love, Struggles, and Hope

A SONG FOR SOULS is a poetic potpourri with something for everyone. The poems touch the heart with the edge of a sharpened sword. Thematic concern envelopes every facet of a burdened society in Africa and the world in extension. Language grips in the poems are inviting just as they are revolutionary in attacking unpleasant sights in the campuses, among the ruled as well as the grip of tyrants on the throats of the helpless. Poetic license is generously employed ranging from freedom of crying out angry tears to satirizing love/beauty that is hardly genuine. At their peak, the poems invoke the consuming fire to devour the harbingers of travesty, oppressors of humanity, and a human race on a cliff-hanger to death. At their valley, they calm frayed nerves, sooth cracking and hopeless souls, and bring the best in humanity by advancing love, hope, and forgiveness. Style and message perfectly weave into a descriptive display of simplicity of diction blending to produce a poetry that makes reading compulsory and enjoyable regardless of who you are, where you are, and where you want to be in life. Come on, you will love what you see.
