

Stepping Out of the Parade: True and Free-Spirited Stories as Told by a Truly Free Spirit

Jay Schaffer has always had an abundant curiosity and nifty attitude about places, work, and life in general. He followed his dream to roam the planet and along the way collected these mostly true anecdotes that describe the wacky and offbeat situations that he has gotten himself into. Forever single, he has humorous dating experiences like being in over his head with a world-class model. Does he succeed with the woman in the jungle among ancient Maya ruins? Can you do, in a canoe? Interest in the unusual made his odd jobs good fodder for his journal. As a Santa Claus, kids taught him about the sad side of Christmas. Did those things really happen on his Good Humor route? Laugh at his school bus tales. Read his account of the Olympic Winter Games, archeological digs, climbing a 20,500-foot peak, bumming throughout the Caribbean, escaping from a volcano, and wild foreign taxi rides. Join him as he sneaks into the White House, runs from bulls in Spain, and gets caught in a Caribbean revolution. Come along with Jay to view the world through his eyes and discover his wonderful slant on life.
