

All Arms and Elbows

This third edition of All Arms and Elbows some may think is an attempt to ring out a nearly dry rag, we believe this is not the case. This edition has been produced in a totally new layout, and includes information and photographs never before published. Jean Ireland, whos co-operation in this project, and who owns the rights to Innes books has been most helpful in putting this document together, would like to share images and information with those who may be interested. Being the archityple Scotsman, Innes found his way into motorsport by sheer guts and determination. His interest came at a time when two of Britains famous racing drivers died, one on the track at Nurburgring, Germany (Peter Collins) and the other ((Mike Hawthorn), World Champion) on the Guildford bypass, Surrey, England. The size of the book is 23cm x 27cm x 2cm and is hard cased bound with a beautifully printed cover. 200+ pages including color photographs. The book weighs 1.4 kilogrammes. .
