

Padman: A Dads Guide to Buying...Those and Other Tales (Reflections of America Book 7)

In this collection of short essays based on personal experiences, Mark Elswick offers humorous episodes about being a man and father. Whether its his daughter sending him to the store to buy thosewell, things that transforms him into Padman; his realization that at forty-two, he is slowly turning into an old man; or his reaction to his middle school aged daughter dating a man two years older than her, readersmale and female alike will find themselves cracking smiles when they arent busy laughing out loud. Elswick also has a serious side to him. Interspersed with the comical tales are heartfelt looks into the lives of people who experience a Traumatic Brain Incident (TBI) injury, including his own story of being in a life-threatening car accident that left doctors predicting he would be a vegetable for the rest of his life. With compassion and insight, while retaining his sense of humor, Elswick writes to raise awareness about TBI; a portion of Padman: A Dads Guide to Buying Those, and Other Tales proceeds will go to TBI research. * Readers will laugh out loud at the comical real-life humor * Women will marvel in amusement at male misperceptions * Men will shyly smile putting theirself in these predicaments * You will understand the capabilities of a Traumatic Brain Injury * Indirectly donate to the Brain Injury Association of America Learn more at www.MarkElswick.com From the Reflections of America series at Modern History Press www.ModernHistoryPress.com
