

Visits With Violet: How to Be Happy for 100 Years

Visits with Violet is a contemporary guide for people of all ages to learn the seven lessons that she has followed for a long, happy life. It is a warm, loving account by a 72-year-old university professor of psychobiology and clinical psychologist seeking what his 100-year-old lifelong friend has so that he can live as long and be as happy as she is. The author, like Violet, has experienced deep pain, both physical and emotional. Violets seven lessons are:

- *Start with gratitude, humor and an unquenchable curiosity
- *Its not what happens that counts, its how you take it
- *If you cant fight and you cant flee, flow
- *Praise the Lord
- *Be well in the self
- *Focus on what the essentials of happiness are
- *Be a good person to live a long, happy life (and to die well)
