

Why?: Why Evil? Why Suffering? Why Death?

If the world was created by God, why is it in such a mess? Russell Stannard begins his exploration with the question of evil. Why, he asks, do we see terrible things happening each day? He then addresses suffering, looking at natural disasters such as floods, earthquakes, and disease, and talks about the inevitability of death in all our lives. Drawing on his scientific background and his Christian faith, Russell Stannard offers penetrating and perceptive responses to these seemingly unanswerable questions.
