

Youth at the wheel

While we are concerned about learning to drive safely in today's congested traffic, it appears that we may have to learn to drive some rather unusual vehicles on different kinds of roads, such as this artist's idea of a lunar vehicle on the surface of the moon! If you think this is far out, note the wide differences between the cars of yesteryear as compared with those of today. Perhaps the artist is not too much out of this world after all.
