

Wonder Wisdom And War: Essays on early Ireland

These four essays on early Irish society and Old Irish were written as part of author Brendan Halligans undergraduate studies in Trinity College Dublin. The pieces cover four main themes: the beginnings of writing in Old Irish; an examination of the old Irish Wisdom Texts, or advice on the appropriate mores and ethics of the old Gaelic hierarchy; status in early Irish society with particular attention paid to its hierarchical, inegalitarian and aristocratic nature; and finally an examination of the controversy over dating The Ulster Cycle.
